Read each scenario and describe how you would handle the situation.

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS—SCENARIOS

SCENARIO 1: During a discussion with a parent of a member, it comes to your attention that one of the Project Leaders has been inviting two of the seven members in the woodworking group to their home to continue to work on 4-H projects after each meeting. The parent also lets you know that there has been at least one occasion where the Leader was alone with just one 4-H member after project meetings.

What concerns would you have? As a trained volunteer, what are your responsibilities in this situation? What steps would you take in order to resolve this situation?

SCENARIO 2: During the Treasurer’s report at the club’s general meeting, a parent interrupts to voice their concern that the club funds aren’t being distributed amongst the different project groups fairly. Another parent speaks up —saying that only a few families ever show up for fundraisers and doesn’t feel the other groups should even receive any of the funds. A few other parents, and even one of the club leaders, join in and argue back and forth.

The Treasurer (who is 12 years old) is visibly upset. The President (who is 16) is struggling to be heard by the other youth members at the meeting.

What concerns would you have? As a trained volunteer, what are your responsibilities in this situation? What steps would you take in order to resolve this situation?
